MISSIONS

Mission 3026-03: Hold the Line!
Lefty's Quarry, Barlow's End, Federated Suns
September 28, 3026
Pilot Skill: 4-5

Okay Boys, listen up! So it appears as though we've got another mission sent to us by the Light Horse. It seems the Dragoons are making a move on a critical electricity generating facility here at grid point Alpha. It's a pretty standard part of their repertoire – hit a facility that's important to the defense of the planet but that the regular folks can live without. Problem is, we're not paid by the "regular folk", we're paid to defend this place. So our job is to protect that facility.

One advantage to these defense contracts is that we get to use detailed surveys of the area that the attackers rarely have access to. In this case, that means that we've identified a pretty significant choke point that the Dragoon's will either need to go through or go way around, and the ELH is betting on the former. That's here, at grid point Beta. Turns out the hills around there have really high marble content, and apparently the rich and shameless on New Avalon have a thing for "Barlow's End Marble". So they basically brought a whole buncha miningmechs over there a few centuries back and started digging away. They used an existing valley as a convenient starting spot, which made it easier to lug the resulting marble out.

So that's where you're going! The ELH has detailed a small force to defend the plant proper, but they won't stand up to much, so it's up to us to make sure that not a lot of forces make it through that valley. A straggler here or there is okay, but if too many 'mechs make it through, that plant is toast.

Map: This should be a narrow, long canyon map with limited sightlines and many level changes.

Recommended Maps:

- 1: DeepCanyon1
- 2: DeepCanyon2

Setup: The bottom edge of the map is the Dragoons “Home Edge”, the top edge is the heroes’ home edge. The Dragoons will enter on turn one from their home edge on any level 0 hex. Any Drogone ‘mechs that exit off the opposite edge are considered to have escaped. The Heroes may set up anywhere they want on the topmost mapsheet. ‘Mechs may not leave the map to either side.

Mission Objectives: The heroes win if no more than one Dragoon 'mech escapes off the heroes' home edge. The heroes win the bonus objective if no Dragoon 'mechs escape.

Award (C-Bills)	Mech Survived	Mech Severely Damaged	Mech Destroyed
No more than one Dragoon 'mech escapes (Success)	350,000	250,000	100,000
No Dragoon 'mechs escape (Bonus Objective)	+100,000	+100,000	+100,000
More than one Dragoon 'mech escapes (Failure)	150,000	100,000	50,000

Award (XP)	Pilot Survived	Pilot Killed
No more than one Dragoon 'mech escapes (Success)	15	5
More than one Dragoon 'mech escapes (Failure)	8	3
Opposing 'Mech/Combat Vehicle destroyed by party	+1	+1

Additional Rewards

Line 'em up! You have the ability to call in a single aerospace strafing run. During the Weapon Attack Phase, designate up to five hexes in a row and a direction that the attack is coming from, which must be along the axis of the target hexes (i.e. along the "line" of hexes). For each unit in each target hex roll 2d6. On a result of 7 or higher, that unit has been hit. Any hit unit takes 15 points of damage in 5 point clusters. Roll locations as if the attacking fire had come from the direction specified. Treat this damage as if came from energy weapons if the target is infantry, or has specialized armor. Once you have used this boon once, cross it off.

- Wasp WSP-1A (1,646,640 C-Bills)
- Thunderbolt TDR-5S (5,413,759 C-Bills)

Additional Rewards

Line 'em up! You have the ability to call in a single aerospace strafing run. During the Weapon Attack Phase, designate up to five hexes in a row and a direction that the attack is coming from, which must be along the axis of the target hexes (i.e. along the "line" of hexes). For each unit in each target hex roll 2d6. On a result of 7 or higher, that unit has been hit. Any hit unit takes 15 points of damage in 5 point clusters. Roll locations as if the attacking fire had come from the direction specified. Treat this damage as if came from energy weapons if the target is infantry, or has specialized armor. Once you have used this boon once, cross it off.

BATTLETECH™

MISSIONS

Mission: 3026-03 Debrief

Hold the Line!

Lefty's Quarry, Barlow's End, Federated Suns

September 28, 3026

As usual, it takes a while to get back to the Barracks, shower to get the stink of hours in a 'Mech cockpit off, and make your way over to "The Beginning", the "usually AFFS" 'mechwarrior bar on the edge of the base. Oddly enough, when you get there, Sarge is waiting for you, sitting in a booth at the back of the bar nursing what looks like the local beer that none of you have been willing to try up until now.

"Hey guys. Listen up" – Jeez, now he's doing it!

"Look – that attack today. The Dragoons were really busy today, launching a bunch of probing attacks here and there. In most cases they encountered light if any resistance and fairly quickly retreated back to their dropships. Trick is: In many of those cases there were better targets than some power plant in the middle of nowhere. And that got me thinkin': Maybe the Light Horse, and by extension the FedSuns are defending something else, and it just looks like the target was that power plant.

I'm sure you guys have heard the scuttlebutt about some secret weapons testing facility here on Barlow's End. Let's say that's true. That means that the Dragoons and their snake employers now know that there's something interesting that direction. I'm sure the Light Horse didn't want to say anything to us since we're new and not necessarily trustworthy, but I'm guessing we haven't heard the end of this.

Don't get too comfy – or drunk. I suspect we're going to be busy again pretty soon.

And that got me thinkin': Maybe the Light Horse, and by extension the FedSuns are defending something else, and it just looks like the target was that power plant.

I'm sure you guys have heard the scuttlebutt about some secret weapons testing facility here on Barlow's End. Let's say that's true. That means that the Dragoons and their snake employers now know that there's something interesting that direction. I'm sure the Light Horse didn't want to say anything to us since we're new and not necessarily trustworthy, but I'm guessing we haven't heard the end of this.

Don't get too comfy – or drunk. I suspect we're going to be busy again pretty soon.

- Thunderbolt TDR-5S (5,413,759 C-Bills)

Additional Rewards

Line 'em up! You have the ability to call in a single aerospace strafing run. During the Weapon Attack Phase, designate up to five hexes in a row and a direction that the attack is coming from, which must be along the axis of the target hexes (i.e. along the "line" of hexes). For each unit in each target hex roll 2d6. On a result of 7 or higher, that unit has been hit. Any hit unit takes 15 points of damage in 5 point clusters. Roll locations as if the attacking fire had come from the direction specified. Treat this damage as if came from energy weapons if the target is infantry, or has specialized armor. Once you have used this boon once, cross it off.

Mission: 3026-03 Debrief

Hold the Line!

Lefty's Quarry, Barlow's End, Federated Suns

September 28, 3026

As usual, it takes a while to get back to the Barracks, shower to get the stink of hours in a 'Mech cockpit off, and make your way over to "The Beginning", the "usually AFFS" 'mechwarrior bar on the edge of the base. Oddly enough, when you get there, Sarge is waiting for you, sitting in a booth at the back of the bar nursing what looks like the local beer that none of you have been willing to try up until now.

"Hey guys. Listen up" – Jeez, now he's doing it!

"Look – that attack today. The Dragoons were really busy today, launching a bunch of probing attacks here and there. In most cases they encountered light if any resistance and fairly quickly retreated back to their dropships. Trick is: In many of those cases there were better targets than some power plant in the middle of nowhere. And that got me thinkin': Maybe the Light Horse, and by extension the FedSuns are defending something else, and it just looks like the target was that power plant.
