MISSIONS

Mission 3029-02b (Capellan): The Sound of Silence
Outskirts of Baktal, Sarna, Sarna Commonality, Capellan Confederation
June 9, 3029
Pilot Skill: 2-4

Okay boys, listen up!

The Situation on Sarna is getting kinda complicated. While we're fighting for the Capellans, we're technically employed by another mercenary command, McCarron's Armored Cavalry. This is good, as we were able to get paid immediately, and we trust them to deal with other mercenary companies fairly - or risk censure by the MRB.

Currently, the Capellans definitely have the upper hand, they just don't know how much. They've dealt with the main FedSuns troops, the Fifth Syrtis Fusiliers, but they believe that that was just a diversionary attack, so they're proceeding cautiously against the Fed's mercenary companies here. To break the stalemate, our employers have intel that the Feds are moving some big guns into position on the high ground east of here to start pounding the city. To do that, they're gonna have to use this ol' service road here at grid point Alpha. You guys should take up ambush positions in the hills there and hit the escorts when they don't expect it. Our employers would really like that gun for themselves, so destroying it should be considered a last resort.

Also, Scotty says you can't use your heaters while trying to remain hidden. Sorry about that! We'll make sure the commissary equips everyone with a thermos of hot coffee for the trip.

Good Hunting!

Map: Use the Pozoristu Mountains map from the Tukayyid map pack (if available). Otherwise, any heavily mountain/hilly map will do with some modifications. Declare one of the short edges (right by default) as the Fed Sun's home edge, the other becomes the PCs home edge.

Recommended Maps:

1: Pozoristu Mountains

Setup: The players Secretly choose their starting locations on any level 7 or higher hex on the half of the map closest to their home edge. If a player reveals they completed the secret objective in the previous mission 3039-01 they can pick their starting location on any level 7 or higher hex. After the players secretly pick their starting locations the GM then places their units. First the GM places the Long Tom and Carriages in order facing towards the PC's home edge of the map on any road hex up to hex 1509. If at least half (rounded up) the players have used the secret objective from mission 3039-01 then the Long Tom must start on hex 1509. Then the GM places all of the OPFOR mechs 3 hexes from the Long Tom or any of its carriages, excluding any hexes level 6 or higher.

Special Rules

Be Vewy Vewy Qwiet. I'm hunting Lom Toms: The heroes can use Hidden Initial Placement. To do so, they must start in a hex that has Woods or no direct line of sight to the road.

Is that a train?: The Long Tom is currently hooked up to its support carriages, which makes it slower (1/2 speed). The order of the carriages is Long Tom, ammo, ammo, ammo, Support, Support. The stacking limit for vehicles is 2, so the entire train takes up three hexes. The Long Tom moves first every turn, and the carriages automatically move with it. The Long Tom does get +1 movement if it stays on the road. See Tractor/Trailer Rules, TW pg 205

That thing's operational! (Optional): The Long tom can fire its main gun at target hexes between 6 and 17 hexes away, with a Gunnery skill of 4. Assume that all ammunition is standard HE. Even if not using this rule, the Long Tom can fire its machine guns normally. See Tac Ops pg. 185 for direct fire artillery rules. If the Long Tom fires in direct fire mode, it targets a hex that it can see. The To-hit number includes a +4 penalty for direct fire, and modifiers for attacker movement and intervening terrain. If the attack misses, it will scatter d6 hexes in a random direction. Wherever it lands, it will do 25 damage (in 5 point clusters) to targets in that hex, 15 points (in 5 point clusters) to all targets in adjacent hexes, and 5 points to all targets 2 hexes away. If the target is in hex that the attack lands, roll in the front column on the hit location chart. For other targets, roll on the appropriate column as if the attack was coming from the hex the attack landed.

The Rockets red glare: If one of the Ammo Carriages are destroyed, roll a standard Determining Critical Hits roll. On an 8-9, one ton of ammo explodes for 125/75/25. On a 10-11, two tons (250/150/50), on a 12, three tons (375/225/75). Note that this will likely have a cascading effect on the rest of the train.

They are making a run for it The Long Tom can escape of the Right edge of the map at the end of the road. If the Long Tom gets off the edge of the map the players lose.

That's a nice road: All roads are leveled so it does not cost any additional movement to change elevation along them. It is asphalt, meaning that running 'mechs and flanking vehicles may skid.

That's a nice toy you got there To Capture the Long Tom you must have more mechs adjacent to Long Tom than there are enemy mechs within 2 tiles of the Long Tom or any of its attached carriages at the end of the round. Once captured the Long Tom will stay in place and not fire any weapons. If at the end of any round the requirements to be captured are not met then the Long Tom is no longer considered captured and can act as normal.

12*	Turret (critical)	Turret (critical)	Turret (critical)

*A result of 2 or 12 (or an 8 if the attack strikes the side) may inflict a critical hit on the vehicle. For each result of 2 or 12 (or 8 for side attacks), apply damage normally to the armor in that section. The attacking player then automatically rolls once on the Ground Combat Vehicle Critical Hits Table below (see Combat, p. 192 in Total Warfare for more information). A result of 12 on the Ground Combat Vehicles Hit Location Table may inflict critical hit against the turret; if the vehicle has no turret, a 12 indicates the chance of a critical hit on the side corresponding to the attack direction.
†The vehicle may suffer motive system damage even if its armor remains intact. Apply damage normally to the armor in that section, but the attacking player also rolls once on the Motive System Damage Table at right (see Combat, p. 192 in Total Warfare for more information). Apply damage at the end of the phase in which the damage takes effect.
§Side hits strike the side as indicated by the attack direction. For example, if an attack hits the right side, all Side results strike the right side armor. If the vehicle has no turret, a turret hit strikes the armor on the side attacked.

MOTIVE SYSTEM DAMAGE TABLE

2D6 Roll	EFFECT*
2-5	No effect.
6-7	Minor damage; +1 modifier to all Driving Skill Rolls
8-9	Moderate damage; -1 Cruising MP, +2 modifier to all Driving Skill Rolls
10-11	Heavy damage; only half Cruising MP (round fractions up), +3 modifier to all Driving Skill Rolls
12+	Major damage; no movement for the rest of the game. Vehicle is immobile.

Attack Direction Modifier:		Vehicle Type Modifiers:
Hit from rear	+1	Tracked, Naval	+0
Hit from the sides	+2	Wheeled	+2
		Hovercraft, Hydrofoil	+3
		WiGE	+4

*All movement and Driving Skill Roll penalties are cumulative. However, each Driving Skill Roll modifier can only be applied once. For example, if a roll of 6-7 is made for a vehicle, inflicting a +1 modifier, that is the only time that particular +1 can be applied; a subsequent roll of 6-7 has no additional effect. This means the maximum Driving Skill Roll modifier that can be inflicted from the Motive System Damage Table is +6. If a unit's Cruising MP is reduced to 0, it cannot move for the rest of the game, but is not considered an immobile target. In addition, all motive system damage takes effect at the end of the phase in which the damage occurred. For example, if two units are attacking the same Combat Vehicle during the Weapon Attack Phase and the first unit inflicts motive system damage and rolls a 12, the -4 immobile target modifier would not apply for the second unit. However, the -4 modifier would take effect during the Physical Attack Phase. If a hover vehicle is rendered immobile while over a Depth 1 or deeper water hex, it sinks and is destroyed.

8-9	Moderate damage; -1 Cruising MP, +2 modifier to all Driving Skill Rolls
10-11	Heavy damage; only half Cruising MP (round fractions up), +3 modifier to all Driving Skill Rolls
12+	Major damage; no movement for the rest of the game. Vehicle is immobile.

Attack Direction Modifier:	Vehicle Type Modifiers:
Hit from rear	Tracked, Naval
Hit from the sides	Wheeled
	Hovercraft, Hydrofoil
	WiGE

*All movement and Driving Skill Roll penalties are cumulative. However, each Driving Skill Roll modifier can only be applied once. For example, if a roll of 6-7 is made for a vehicle, inflicting a +1 modifier, that is the only time that particular +1 can be applied; a subsequent roll of 6-7 has no additional effect. This means the maximum Driving Skill Roll modifier that can be inflicted from the Motive System Damage Table is +6. If a unit's Cruising MP is reduced to 0, it cannot move for the rest of the game, but is not considered an immobile target. In addition, all motive system damage takes effect at the end of the phase in which the damage occurred. For example, if two units are attacking the same Combat Vehicle during the Weapon Attack Phase and the first unit inflicts motive system damage and rolls a 12, the -4 immobile target modifier would not apply for the second unit. However, the -4 modifier would take effect during the Physical Attack Phase. If a hover vehicle is rendered immobile while over a Depth 1 or deeper water hex, it sinks and is destroyed.

*A result of 2 or 12 (or an 8 if the attack strikes the side) may inflict a critical hit on the vehicle. For each result of 2 or 12 (or 8 for side attacks), apply damage normally to the armor in that section. The attacking player then automatically rolls once on the Ground Combat Vehicle Critical Hits Table below (see Combat, p. 192 in Total Warfare for more information). A result of 12 on the Ground Combat Vehicles Hit Location Table may inflict critical hit against the turret; if the vehicle has no turret, a 12 indicates the chance of a critical hit on the side corresponding to the attack direction.
†The vehicle may suffer motive system damage even if its armor remains intact. Apply damage normally to the armor in that section, but the attacking player also rolls once on the Motive System Damage Table at right (see Combat, p. 192 in Total Warfare for more information). Apply damage at the end of the phase in which the damage takes effect.
§Side hits strike the side as indicated by the attack direction. For example, if an attack hits the right side, all Side results strike the right side armor. If the vehicle has no turret, a turret hit strikes the armor on the side attacked.

MISSIONS

Mission: 3029-02b (Capellan) Debrief

The Sound of Silence

Outskirts of Baktal, Sarna, Sarna Commonality, Capellan Confederation

June 9, 3029

Surprisingly enough, at the end of the day, you find yourselves in a regular, run-of-the-mill bar in the (still!) Capellan town of Baktal. Sure, after the time you spent in Lyran space, the beer here is definitely subpar, but on the other hand, you find your C-Bills go a lot farther. Before you can get too hammered, however, you get called back to the Grover's Folly for a debrief, to quote the Major, "Away from Prying Eyes and Ears".

"Okay Boys, listen up!" says the major from his usual lectern at the front of the briefing room. "Good job with the Artillery piece today. I think our new employers in the Big MAC are a little suspicious of us, but this should go a ways in convincing them that we're legit.

"So here's the situation. We know that the FedSuns invasion of Sarna has gone pear shaped from the outset, for two reasons. First: The Feds had seriously out of date intel on the defenses of the planet, believing that the MAC was elsewhere, and Second: the fifth Fusiliers RCT really wanted to get here first to prove to the First Prince that they were excited to be here, so they rushed ahead and got hammered."

This is news to nobody.

"Here's the key takeaway for you guys. We have a clause in our previous contract stating that we would not, for the period of a year, reveal any information that we have about troop locations or concentrations to any powers hostile to the Federated Suns. It's a pretty common clause that rarely comes up, but it has come up in spades right now. We happen to know that the remaining Fed mercenaries are badly outnumbered by the Cappie- Sorry - 'the Capellans', but if we tell them that we'll be in violation of that clause. So you are not, under any circumstances, to reveal that information. If we do, we'd face censure from the MRB, and as a small, relatively new unit, it's unclear that we could survive that. Is that understood?"

There's a general murmur of assent.

"So with that - I know you guys like your little informal post-mission debriefs from Henrik and Sarge. For now, those sessions will have to take place here on this ship, where we can be certain that nothing leaks to the Cappies - at least not until they figure out for themselves what troops the Feds have remaining."

"I've arranged with Captain Archer to have local beer brought in actual bottles to be stored in refrigerated storage in bay C to make the whole process a little more palatable.

"Any questions?"

About half a dozen hands shoot up. Well, this is about to get interesting. And not in a good way, but in that Capellan curse kind of way. Well, it's not like you signed up to be a Mercenary to live an 'uninteresting' life...

"I've arranged with Captain Archer to have local beer brought in actual bottles to be stored in refrigerated storage in bay C to make the whole process a little more palatable.

"Any questions?"

About half a dozen hands shoot up. Well, this is about to get interesting. And not in a good way, but in that Capellan curse kind of way. Well, it's not like you signed up to be a Mercenary to live an 'uninteresting' life...

MISSIONS

Mission: 3029-02b (Capellan) Debrief

The Sound of Silence

Outskirts of Baktal, Sarna, Sarna Commonality, Capellan Confederation

June 9, 3029

Surprisingly enough, at the end of the day, you find yourselves in a regular, run-of-the-mill bar in the (still!) Capellan town of Baktal. Sure, after the time you spent in Lyran space, the beer here is definitely subpar, but on the other hand, you find your C-Bills go a lot farther. Before you can get too hammered, however, you get called back to the Grover's Folly for a debrief, to quote the Major, "Away from Prying Eyes and Ears".

"Okay Boys, listen up!" says the major from his usual lectern at the front of the briefing room. "Good job with the Artillery piece today. I think our new employers in the Big MAC are a little suspicious of us, but this should go a ways in convincing them that we're legit.

"So here's the situation. We know that the FedSuns invasion of Sarna has gone pear shaped from the outset, for two reasons. First: The Feds had seriously out of date intel on the defenses of the planet, believing that the MAC was elsewhere, and Second: the fifth Fusiliers RCT really wanted to get here first to prove to the First Prince that they were excited to be here, so they rushed ahead and got hammered."

This is news to nobody.

"Here's the key takeaway for you guys. We have a clause in our previous contract stating that we would not, for the period of a year, reveal any information that we have about troop locations or concentrations to any powers hostile to the Federated Suns. It's a pretty common clause that rarely comes up, but it has come up in spades right now. We happen to know that the remaining Fed mercenaries are badly outnumbered by the Cappie- Sorry - 'the Capellans', but if we tell them that we'll be in violation of that clause. So you are not, under any circumstances, to reveal that information. If we do, we'd face censure from the MRB, and as a small, relatively new unit, it's unclear that we could survive that. Is that understood?"

There's a general murmur of assent.

"So with that - I know you guys like your little informal post-mission debriefs from Henrik and Sarge. For now, those sessions will have to take place here on this ship, where we can be certain that nothing leaks to the Cappies - at least not until they figure out for themselves what troops the Feds have remaining."
